Inside the BARN w/ CCALT's Executive Director Erik Glenn

(The BARN/BARN Media – Briggsdale, CO) August 12, 2016 – Landowners across Colorado have long wondered on how they can protect productive agricultural land, in order to achieve their estate planning goals, pay down debt, save for retirement, pay for long-term health care and college education, diversify and expand operations, and preserve their agricultural heritage. One of the ways to help them accomplish those goals is by working with the Colorado Agricultural Land Trust, and joining the CO Ag News Network by telephone is CCALT's Executive Director Erik Glenn...
